

Career Research

Today, spend some time reading about careers, and then choose one for your research paper. Use the Occupational Outlook Handbook to research the following topics. Make sure to put information into your own words (paraphrase).

**Nature of Work – job description, duties

**Conditions of Work – physical conditions, physical demands, stress levels, tools, work environment

**Training/Advancement opportunity – education and training, licensure and certification

**Employment – how many? chances?

**Outlook – employment change, job prospects...3 years? 5 years? 10 years?

**Earnings – year projection? How much month? Week? Day? Five day work week

**Related Occupations – What makes them related?

Also visit www.planstudent.org as a resource.

You will need to find one additional print source.

Type a 4-6 page paper that will be included in your electronic portfolio.

Career Research

Today, spend some time reading about careers, and then choose one for your research paper. Use the Occupational Outlook Handbook to research the following topics. Make sure to put information into your own words (paraphrase).

**Nature of Work – job description, duties

**Conditions of Work – physical conditions, physical demands, stress levels, tools, work environment

**Training/Advancement opportunity – education and training, licensure and certification

**Employment – how many? chances?

**Outlook – employment change, job prospects...3 years? 5 years? 10 years?

**Earnings – year projection? How much month? Week? Day? Five day work week

**Related Occupations – What makes them related?

Also visit www.planstudent.org as a resource.

You will need to find one additional print source.

Type a 3-5 page paper that will be included in your electronic portfolio.

Career Research

Today, spend some time reading about careers, and then choose one for your research paper. Use the Occupational Outlook Handbook to research the following topics. Make sure to put information into your own words (paraphrase).

**Nature of Work – job description, duties

**Conditions of Work – physical conditions, physical demands, stress levels, tools, work environment

**Training/Advancement opportunity – education and training, licensure and certification

**Employment – how many? chances?

**Outlook – employment change, job prospects...3 years? 5 years? 10 years?

**Earnings – year projection? How much month? Week? Day? Five day work week

**Related Occupations – What makes them related?

Also visit www.planstudent.org as a resource.

You will need to find one additional print source.

Type a 2-4 page paper that will be included in your electronic portfolio.